Inventing Our Future!

Canadian School Library
Association will hold its annual conference as part of the

CLA Conference

Halifax, Nova Scotia

June 19-22, 2002

www.cla.ca/conference/cla2002/index.htm

Go for Gold!

The title of this issue of School Libraries in Canada says it all: Sources. Whether you want lists of national and international award winning fiction and non-fiction, bibliographies of French language materials, titles of valuable professional resources, recommendations for worthy audio visual materials or directories of professional contact names, the Canadian School Library Association's School Libraries in Canada is the premiere source for quality school library information.

In addition to producing an exceptional professional journal, the Canadian School Library Association has been working hard to support and raise the profile of school libraries in Canada. For example, CSLA has recently produced a Position Statement on Effective School Library Programs. This small brochure is in high demand; give one to every parent in your school! Two other brochures, Resource Based Teaching and Learning and Technology and the School Library are currently under development. And, if you are presently taking school library education courses, or just want to catch up on great articles that you missed the first time, the collection of articles in The Best of SLIC is a must have. Also in the area of information distribution, CSLA plans to create an electronic clearinghouse of pertinent school library documents. The project will be administered by a joint committee of CSLA and ATLC (Association for Teacher-Librarianship in Canada) that will obtain relevant materials, create bibliographies, and publicize the holdings of the collection to their members and encourage its use. Watch for an announcement. CSLA's two biggest projects are the National Document on School Library Standards and the National Report on School Libraries. In partnership with ATLC, CSLA is in the final stages of preparing a first draft of a National Document on School Library Standards, which will provide standards for school library staffing, facilities and collections. Entitled Achieving Information Literacy Through Strong School Library Programs, this document contains a powerful vision statement written by Roch Carrier, a set of standards for media and information literacy, role descriptions of the various players in school libraries, statements from parents and students, and several other tools for teacher-librarians and decision-makers to use when developing school library programs.

Our second large initiative is the National Report Card on School Libraries in Canada. In June 2002 we hope to have compiled, with the expert help of provincial associations, our first National Report Card. This report card will provide benchmark and comparative data on the state of school libraries in every province and territory in Canada. In February, each province will ask all its teacher-librarians to complete a two page survey. Questions will focus on: number of elementary/secondary schools in province, training requirements for the position of TL, whether the budget is discretionary or designated, support staff availability, Board and District support, etc. If you have not received a copy of your survey please contact your Provincial School Library Association.

During March and April, provincial school library organizations will compile the data into a Provincial Report. These provincial reports will then be amalgamated into one National Report Card, which will appear on the CSLA website and will also be shared with Roch Carrier and the National Library of Canada committee on Library Core Statistics. Roch Carrier, our National Librarian, is one of Canada's strongest school library supporters; but, he cannot help us if we don't provide him with the facts. Please help us to help him. Which brings me to my final thought.

The Canadian School Library Association is a non-profit, volunteer organization. That means our executive and our provincial partners volunteer their time and expertise to create brochures such as Effective School Library Programs, journals such as School Libraries in Canada, electronic clearinghouses, and National Documents on Standards and Library Statistics. These projects are realizable because of the funds generated from membership fees. If you value projects such as those outlined above, please consider supporting your national school library organization, CSLA, by becoming a full member ($175) or, for those with tight budget, consider an associate membership ($60.00).

They say that great things are not always done by one very strong person, but rather by many people working towards the same goal. Let's work together TEAM CANADA, and make our school libraries Olympic gold winners! Our kids are Canada's future and they deserve nothing less than a gold standard.

Best Wishes

Canadian Children's and Young Adult Authors and Illustrators

This list of Canadian children's and young adult authors and illustrators has been developed to be as extensive as possible but is not a "definitive" list. The intent is to recognize, celebrate, and support the wealth of talent we have in Canada. Names were chosen from the following sources: the National Library of Canada, Children's Book Centre, review journals, awards lists, "best" bibliographies and author/illustrator organizations. Titles included are more recent and/or notable books. An * denotes an award or some other form of recognition. (I) = illustrator, (YA) = Young adult. If you feel that an author, illustrator, or title should be added to the list, please contact the editor at: lcarefoot@telus.net.

A Kid's View Series

2-tape set. 1999. 193C9198103. $74.95

In the first video, Jordan Schroder takes you on a country-wide tour of Canada, interviewing kids in 1993. In part II he goes back on the road and talks to the same kids 5 years later.

Amarok's Song - The Journey to Nunavut

75 mins. 10 secs. 1998. 149C9198133. $39.95
This is the story of the Caribou Inuit family who were Canada's last nomads. With the voices of three generations, they tell of their journey from an independent life hunting on the Kewwatin tundra to the present, when they take the reins of the new territory of Nunavut on April 1, 1999.

Burns Bog - A Road Runs Through It

24 mins. 15secs. 1999. 119C0199041. $39.95
Located on the southern fringes of Vancouver, Burns Bog is one of the world's most precious ecosystems. Home to nearly 200 species of mammals and birds, it is also a vital stop for migrating waterfowl. But Burns Bog is faced with imminent destruction, as the needs of the area's mushrooming human population eats away at its edges. This video explores an urgent question: How do we define the worth of land and water, peat and plants, when there is a profit to be made?

Canada at War

13-tape series. 2000. 193W0100086. $449.95
This historical 13-part series represents one of the NFB's most ambitious documentary projects ever undertaken. Culled from over 16 million feet of film shot by Canadian, British, American, German and Russian cameramen, the series powerfully details Canada's war effort during World War II in relation to the overall Allied Strategy.

Defining Canada: Active Citizenship for the 21st Century [CD-ROM]

1999. 133C0199123. $69.95 each. (Lab pack of 5 - $229.95)
The history of citizenship is detailed through such historical documents as the Magna Carta and the Declaration of the Rights of Man and the Citizen. Encouragement to explore the meaning of these documents is provided by a wide variety of means that pose questions and invite further questioning and research.

Far From Home: Canada and the Great War

10-Part Educational Series (10 tapes). 1999. 193C9199280. $349.95
The most comprehensive documentary history on Canada's achievements in World War I. Far from Home: Canada and Great War involves extensive filming in Europe and features never-before-seen footage and stills of the Great War.

Forgotten Warriors

51 mins. 15 secs. 1997. 106C0196142. $39.95
Although they could not be conscripted, when World War II was declared, thousands of Canadian Aboriginal men and women enlisted and fought alongside their non-Native countrymen. While they fought for freedom for others, ironically the Aboriginal soldiers were not allowed equality in their own country.

Freedom Had a Price

55 mins. 05 secs. 1994. 117C0194043. $39.95
Freedom Had a Price tells the little known story of those Ukrainian immigrants who, described by the Canadian government as "enemy aliens" at the outbreak of World War One, found themselves subject to discriminatory and repressive measures for the next six years.

Government in Canada

4-tape series. 1991. 191C0190124. $145.95
A four-part kit with study guide and other support materials that detail the various levels of government in Canada and outlines the Canadian parliamentary system of government.

John McCrae's War: In Flanders Fields

46 mins. 11 secs. 1998. 119C9198097. $39.95
Generations of schoolchildren have recited "In Flanders Field" on Remembrance Day, and most Canadians can still recall a verse or two. John McCrae's War: In Flanders Fields chronicles McCrae's life from his childhood in Guelph, Ontario to the battlefield of Belgium.

Journey to Nunavut: The Kreealak Story

48 mins. 15 secs. 1999. 149C9198134. $39.95
Martin Kreealak was born in an igloo on the coast of Hudson Bay in 1954. In 1985 he joined the first group of videomakers for the Inuit Broadcasting Corporation. In this video Martin Kreealak speaks for the generation that has borne the brunt of cultural clashes between southern and Inuit societies. They are the ones who will set the course for their new homeland. A longer video, "Journey to Nunavut: Amarok's Song" (75 min.) is also available.

"Just One Big Mess": The Halifax Explosion, 1917

18 mins. 34 secs. 1991. 111C0190117. $39.95
On the morning of December 6, 1917, Halifax was a beautiful, peaceful and prosperous city. Within hours it was devastated by the biggest accidental explosion the world has ever seen. In "Just One Big Mess": The Halifax Explosion, 1917 poignant photos and the voices of survivors help tell the tragic story of an event whose enormity still resonates today.

Just Watch Me: Trudeau and the 70's Generation

75 mins. 51 secs. 1999. 119C0199104. $39.95
It wasn't easy growing up under the elegant and enigmatic Pierre Trudeau. In "Just Watch Me", we meet eight people from across the country who did: Anglo and Franco, separatist and federalist, idealist and realist. People whose personal and national dreams are intertwined. They are the Trudeau generation - Canadians who grew up during the 70's.

Life in Early Canada

65 mins. 55 secs. 1996. 119C9189211. $19.95
This compilation brings together seven animated stories vividly showing daily life in pre-Confederation Canada: Emily's Journey, Jamie Really Liked to Eat, Wolly's Gift, The New Schoolhouse, The New Schoolteacher, Henry Settles in Upper Canada, Homesteading on the Prairies.

Louisbourg Under Siege

45 mins. 1997. 119C0197027. $39.95
The colonists' assault on Louisbourg played a pivotal role in the emergence of the US as a nation. The victory marked a coming-of-age for the New Englanders, giving them confidence in their military strength, laying the basis for their military tradition and making them wary of European powers. Using stunning footage of the fortress and a re-creation of the 1745 Battle of Louisbourg, this beautifully shot documentary brings to life a turning point in North American history.

Postcards from Canada

41 mins. 15 secs. 2000. 119C0100023. $39.95
"Postcards from Canada" updates the popular 1967 film Helicopter Canada with breathtaking images and aerial photography. Like postcards themselves, these snapshots of Canada are tantalizing glimpses that will make you "wish you were here" - and be glad that you are.

Rain, Drizzle and Fog

49 mins. 42 secs. 1998. 105C0198008. $39.95
St. John's Newfoundland is North America's most easterly landfall. For half a millennium, its perfect harbor has provided a safe refuge in the middle of the treacherous North Atlantic. For 300 years of its history it was an actual crime to try and settle - Newfoundland was the private preserve of British fishing merchants. But people stayed despite the colonial masters, despite the lack of law and order, despite the hellish weather and raging seas.

Rosies of the North

46 mins. 40 secs. 1999. 119C9199215. $39.95
Like many other factories across the country from 1939 to 1945, the shop floor at Fort William's Canadian Car and Foundry was transformed from an all-male workforce to one with forty percent female workers. Rosies of the North traces the story of a group of women who's lives were changed by their experiences. They describe with wit and humour their role in the production of the Hurricane and Helldiver fighter planes.

The Battle of Vimy Ridge Series

4-tape series. 1997. 193C9197063. $145.95
The Battle of Vimy Ridge powerfully recounts how the Canadians fought their way to victory. Divided into four parts to facilitate classroom use: Setting the Stage, Keys to Victory, The Battle Looms, and The Battle Joined and Won. Each part includes its own Resource Guide.

The Custodian of the Hill

50 mins. 36 secs. 1999. 119C0199012. $39.95
An imposing setting, centuries-old traditions, and stately protocol that brings a smile to our lips: we are behind the scenes at the House of Commons, in Ottawa.

The Little Trapper

25 mins. 29 secs. 1999. 119C0199027. $39.95
Robert Grandjambé, Jr., is a unique and industrious 13-year-old-kid. While his peers are adopting a more modern, urban lifestyle, Robert is continuing the traditions of his Cree forebears. Equally at home in town or in bush, the young boy is The Little Trapper, hunting, fishing and learning to live off the land.

Transit Series

5-tape series. 2000. 193C9100071. $169.95
Transit is a series of five short documentaries for young people that examine Canada's vast geography and environments. Each short is held together by a specific theme: Air, Earth, Water, Fire, Life. The videos in the Transit Series are packed with information, interesting factoids and lively animation.

Unwanted Soldiers

48 mins. 48 secs. 1999. 119C0199084. $39.95
For filmmaker Jari Osborne, November 11 was as remarkable a day as the next. Watching her father, Alex Louie, during his annual Remembrance Day ritual, Osborne always thought of him as sentimental. However, in discovering her father's involvement in World War II, she uncovers a legacy of discrimination and politically sanctioned racism against British Columbia's Chinese-Canadian community.

Welcome to Nunavut

43 mins. 06 secs. 1999. 115C0199221. $39.95
This film travels above the treetops for an intimate visit with six northern characters during four frenzied days at the birth of Nunavut - Canada's newest territory. A delightfully frank and often funny portrait of the inherent drama and conflicts of key people who are all furiously working towards a day that will go down in history.

Where the Bay Becomes the Sea

29 mins. 27 secs. 1985. 106C0184096. $39.95
The richness, complexity and fragility of marine life unfold like a Persian carpet in this beautiful film. The bay of the title is the Bay of Fundy, and where it meets the sea, a unique ecosystem has developed. The film traces the intricate interrelationships within the food chain, from tiny plankton, through birds and seals, and finally to whales and humans.
